CALL TO WORSHIP

The Scriptural call to worship at the beginning of our service reminds us of the centrality of God's Word. God reveals Himself to us through His Word and invites us to respond corporately to Him in worship.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen His glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.

John 1:1, 14

CORPORATE CONFESSION

In light of God's holiness, wrath, and grace, we acknowledge that we have all sinned against God and are in need of His sanctifying grace. This confession occurs in the context of a covenant relationship made possible through the perfect life, substitutionary death, and victorious resurrection of Jesus. As Christians, our confession is not so that God should forgive us, but because, through Christ, He has already forgiven us.

*There shall come forth a shoot from the stump of Jesse, and a branch from his roots shall bear fruit. And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and might, the Spirit of knowledge and the fear of the Lord.
And his delight shall be in the fear of the Lord.*

Isaiah 11:1-3a

OFFERING

Giving is an act of worship in which the members of Hickory Grove give generously of our substance to further the mission of the church and to bring glory to God.

CHRISTMAS: A GUIDE FOR THE CHURCH

WHAT IS CHRISTMAS?

From the very beginning, God promised that He would save His people from their sins. For years, God's people waited for their promised Savior to come until, at last, God kept His promise! Christians around the world celebrate this day as Christmas. Christians today are still praising God for what He did. Christmas is a celebration of God sending His Son, Jesus, into the world to save His people from their sins.

What should I emphasize in my home this Christmas?

For most children, the Christmas season is their favorite time of the year. While there is nothing wrong with the sentimental trappings of Christmas, parents should be careful, lest the message of Christ be lost in a sea of gifts and decorations. As you seek to keep this Christmas centered on Christ, consider emphasizing the following:

- 1. Emphasize the greatest gift they could ever receive. What many children most look forward to at Christmas is receiving gifts. As your children are making their list and counting down to Christmas, use this opportunity to share with them the greatest gift they could ever receive: salvation through Jesus Christ. Let your gift-giving be a platform to share the Gospel this Christmas.
- 2. Emphasize the Light of the World. One favorite tradition during the Christmas season is the hanging of Christmas lights. This Christmas, as your family admires the beautiful Christmas lights brightening the night sky, use this opportunity to emphasize a greater light: Jesus, the Light of the World (John 8:12). Let your decorations be a platform to share the Gospel this Christmas.
- 3. Emphasize the truth of God's Word. While many of our treasured Christmas traditions are make-believe, the real Christmas story is no fairy tale. This Christmas take time to read the real Christmas story found in the Bible and emphasize the truth of God's Word. Let this Christmas be a platform to teach your children to trust God's Word.

How can I teach my child more about Christmas?

As a parent, God has called you to be the primary disciple-maker in your child's life. Here are two ways you can teach your child about Christmas.

- 1. Read the Bible story together. Read as a family either Matthew's account in Matthew 1:18–2:12 or Luke's account in Luke 2:1–20.
- 2. Celebrate Advent as a family. Advent is a four-week celebration of Christ's coming to Earth and is a great tool for parents to help shift the focus of the holiday season back to Christ..
